

Responsibility

Each of us at every level of our company shares the challenge of making Sustainable Development part of our 'DNA'. That means creating a culture and processes where we run our business in a responsible and profitable way. Responsibility will become a more and more powerful element of all our products and services. That's because we want to support our customers' and business associates' commitment to a sustainable future.

Responsibility is not a one-off target, it's a continuous journey. By making progressive and concerted efforts DPD can definitely reduce its impact on the Planet, support its People and serve the Community.
